

CONSUMPTION'S WARNING

Inside facts soon become evident in outside symptoms.—Dr. G. G. GREEN.

The aid of scientific inventions is not needed to determine whether your lungs are affected. The first symptoms can be readily noted by anyone of average intelligence.

There is no disease known that gives as many plain warnings of its approach as consumption, and no serious disease that can be so quickly reached and checked, if the medicine used is Dr. Boschee's German Syrup, which is made to cure consumption.

It is in the early stages that German Syrup should be taken, when warnings are given in the cough that won't quit, the congestion of the bronchial tubes and the gradual weakening of the lungs, accompanied by frequent expectoration.

But no matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has already attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble.

Marker for Old Site.

That the site of the "Old Mansion House," the most famous hostelry west of the Allegheny Mountains, will not be forgotten, the Kentucky Historical Society will soon place a handsome marker in the northeast corner of the McClure Building, the only skyscraper in Frankfort.

The "Old Mansion House" dates back to 1812, when the site was purchased by Humphrey Marshall. In the days of Whig and Democratic parties the hotel was the Democratic headquarters in the West, for Frankfort in those days was to the West what Cincinnati, St. Louis and Chicago are today.

The "Old Mansion House" too, was noted because of the famous ball that used to be given in it on January 8th, to commemorate the Battle of New Orleans. It was in 1820 that President Monroe and General Jackson visited the city and were at the ball on the night of January 8th. The President made a memorable speech during the ball, which was his campaign material in his race for the Presidency.

It was in the "Old Mansion House," too, that the Indian chiefs were entertained on their way South, and where the beautiful Julia Dean, the actress, made her home. It was where Theodore O'Hare, Vice President R. M. Johnson, Humphrey Evans and other wits met and discussed politics in the good old times.

Good Cough Medicine for Children.

The season for coughs and colds is now at hand and too much care cannot be used to protect the children. A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when he has a cold. The quicker you cure his cold the less the risk. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the sole reliance of many mothers, and few of those who have tried it are willing to use any other. Mrs. F. F. Starcher, of Ripley, W. Va., says, "I have never used anything other than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for my children and it has always given good satisfaction." This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a child as to an adult. For sale by W. T. Brooks. You need no other guarantee.

Chief Justice Settle.

Judge E. C. O'Rear Friday served his last day as Chief Justice and on the first Monday in January Judge W. E. Settle will become the chief justice for a term of two years. Judge O'Rear has been elected for another eight-year term on the bench, however, and in 1915 will again, under the operation of the law, become chief justice for a two-year term. Each Judge is chief justice during the last two years of his term, unless two of them have the same term. Then the law prescribes that they must draw lots as to which shall serve as chief justice.
